

Protecting Yourself from Crime

To protect yourself from crimes, particularly those targeting women, it is important to review safety measures for both at home and on the street.

～Avoid Becoming a Victim～

Always use the intercom or door scope to identify visitors.

Lock the door and secure the door chain every time you enter your home.

Always lock windows and balconies when sleeping or leaving your home.

Choose well-lit, busy streets whenever possible.

Occasionally look back and check behind you to maintain awareness of your surroundings.

Keep Emergency Devices, such as a safety alarm or smartphone, easily accessible.

Avoid distractions like using a smartphone or listening to music with earphones while walking. (It's dangerous as it can lead to distraction.)

If you become a victim:

Report it to the nearest police box or police station.
